

Rhianne Newlahnd

Gathering beauty and assembling it into pleasing spiritually charged prayerful spaces, ceremonies, writings and artworks is my joy

I love to gather beauty. I love to have stacks of fabrics and drawers of jewels. Bins of trims and boxes of buttons. Velvets and laces tempt me with visions of future Goddesses, Fairies, Mythic Archetypes or wise women who emerge from my canvases from these bits and pieces, into magnificent works of art.

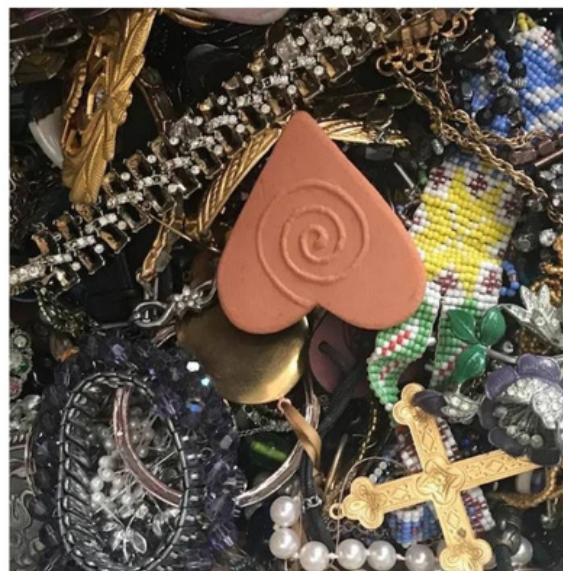

A collage artist learns to collect beauty. I have translated my mastery as a visual artist, to the creation of my whole life. You see, I gather beauty to create a simply enchanted life. I gather all of the best elements I can find. But first, I give thanks to Life. I offer her my allegiance, my devotion, and my respect. I do not wish to abuse her beauty, but to co-create with her a life that pays homage to her goodness, generosity, power and passion. Once this foundation is set, I collect beautiful thoughts, people, environments, healthy foods, work I love, gardens to tend, celebrations to create, and so much more, as my LIFE COLLAGE.

It is important to discern when something is not a good fit for the larger picture of your art and your life.

A Simply Enchanted Life is made bit by bit as you gather all the beautiful facets needed to delight your soul and express your true self.

As one practices any art, you gain mastery. In collage, you learn to truly "see" with your heart. and to discern if an element is going to be harmonious and enhance the beauty of the whole creation. The more you create with clarity and connection to your higher self, the more beauty you will generate and attract.

Crowning of the wise woman

I have been on Mother Earth for decades. It has taken me a long time to embrace being an elder, because I have had to redefine what that means for me. The truth is, I have more to offer and greater wisdom now, than I ever have. My attitude is that every year is an opportunity to get more creative and powerful. I feel that the best is yet to come! Recently, I made this portrait of my radiant self with my halo of wisdom, entering the arched gateway of a new cycle for my life. I wear a crown of flowers and fairies, because I am Rhianna, Queen of the Fairies, and I live an enchanted life of beauty and magic. I love this quote by a great Potter named Beatrice Wood, who did her best art between 80 and 105 years of age and shared the following secrets of her success, which I totally relate to.

"I owe it all to art books, chocolate and young men."

My Ancient Aunt - The Seer

There was a story told, of my great Aunt, Tanta Zali, who was a wild Hungarian fortune teller with long glorious curly hair, wore richly embroidered costumes and was a famous folk dancer. As a young girl, I could feel her spirit within me, and knew that I had her abilities of seership, and dance and the desire to be wild and free as the wind, just like her. We all have a Seer within. Our intuition is our compass. Many of us have inherited amazing skills from our ancient wise women lineages that we can remember if we call upon them and listen within. What do you feel that you have inherited? A love of gardening, a feel for healing, an ability to be an amazing mother and chef? As we move to create new cultures, let us take the best gifts of the past with us.

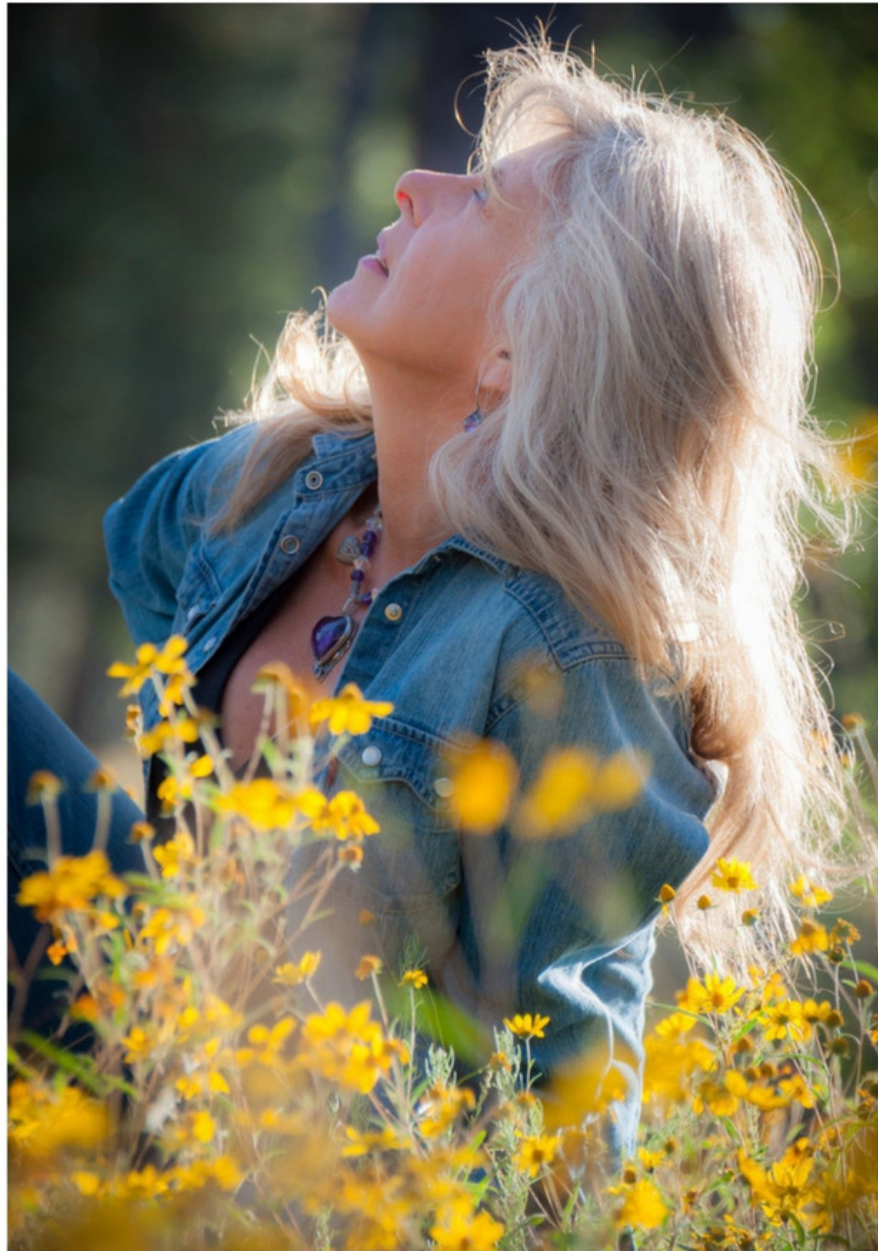

These are two of my favorite Collages. They both contain many prayers for the flowering of humanity to occur, and the emergence of a time of harmony, peace, flourishing, beauty, joy, and enchantment. Works like this demand me keep my energy, intention, devotion, gratitude and joy flowing, so that my work is imbued with those qualities. It is important to me that my inner environment is kept clear and harmonious, so that my creations are as pure, clear, radiant and beautiful as possible.

Rhianne Teija NewLahnd Bio

Rhianne Teija NewLahnd is a devotee of the Sacred Feminine and a respected spiritual adviser and intuitive reader with 30+ years of experience, who has provided inspiration and/or guidance for thousands of people. She is an ordained Priestess in two orders, one the Fellowship of Isis, a Minister, a Certified Clinical Hypnotherapist and an energy healer. She is the Director/ Founder of NewLahnd Studio's and Simply Enchanted Living where she presents her programs using her incredible original Enchanted Heart Wisdom Oracle and educational systems to transform people's lives. As a prolific writer, she has been published in magazines such as Goddess Guru, Nabalo, White Light, Spiritual Sedona and many others. She is currently designing some amazing new courses and a series of books about enchanted living. Rhianne was a performing artist and song writer who presented her original one woman musical show called Sara Of The Sacred Garden 250 times in 3 years. She also is an artist and designer, creating incredible custom Enchanted Soul Portraits, designing sacred jewelry adornments and has created wearable art for such notable celebrities such as John Denver. Her hand painted wearable art was featured in high end boutiques from Santa Fe to Ashland Oregon for many years. and galleries and designing custom made jewelry. I am a devoted mate, home maker, gardener and long time Sedona resident, contributing to my community many ceremonies, support groups, celebrations, events and women's circles.

Website & Offerings